ACROSS
1. Another name for Kohlberg’s stage 6 is the stage of ________ Ethical Principles.
4. Infants, in our culture, are viewed as ________ or lacking a sense of morality.
5. This theorist believes that moral development is a trait.
8. ________ is the process by which a child internalizes the same sex parent’s personality and moral values into their own ego.
9. The desire for social approval is the basis for Kohlberg’s ________ stage.
11. During the 2nd year of life, we see the beginnings of ________ behavior such as helping and sharing.
13. ________ rules are standards that focus on the rights an welfare of others.
14. When a boy internalizes the moral beliefs of his father, he has resolved the ________ complex.
16. According to Piaget, the stage of moral ________ is characterized by children focusing on the consequences of an action.
18. The understanding that people have mental states such as desires, beliefs, and intentions that guides their behavior.
19. In Kohlberg’s ________ stage, children obey their parents in order to avoid punishment.
23. Social ________ rules are rules such as etiquette and game rules that focus on what is appropriate in a social setting.
24. In Post-conventional morality level, individuals define right and wrong in terms of principles of ________.
25. Another name for stage 5, labeled morality of contract, individual rights, and democratically accepted law, is the ________ ________ stage.

DOWN
2. ________ is when parents use reasoning and emphasize the effects of their child’s misbehavior on others.
3. This social learning theorist was less interested in moral judgement/reasoning and more interested in moral behavior.
6. The stage where people believe that some principles should be upheld even at the risk of social disapproval or going against the law is Kohlberg’s ________ stage.
7. The ________ theory approach to moral development is characterized by individuals choosing right or wrong based on the situation that they are in.
10. This theorist developed a stage theory of moral development in which a person progresses one stage at a time and does not revert back to lower level of moral reasoning.
12. In the Conventional Morality level, moral values are defined by ________.
15. Both Kohlberg and ________ attribute moral development to two factors: cognitive development and social experience.
17. Piaget’s moral reciprocity stage is based on children judging an action on the basis of the ________ of the person.
20. Freud believes that this component of your personality controls morality.
21. Kohlberg’s ________ stage of moral development is characterized by desire to gain rewards.
22. When a girl internalizes the moral beliefs of her mother, she has resolved the ________ complex.