Connecting to ECU's MyWeb Server With FileZilla

If you do not already have FileZilla, download and install the client.

Open FileZilla

Toward the bottom right of the Site Manager window, click on "New Site." There will appear, under "My Sites," a "New site." Rename "New site" by overstriking it with what you want your new site to be named.

Select Entry:
My Sites MyWeb	2
New Site 1	New F older
New Book m ark	New F older

Set Host to ftpmyweb.ecu.edu. Change Encryption and Logon Type to the settings shown in the screenshot below. Set User to "intra/aargh," where "aargh" is your Pirate ID.

The basic setup is now complete. Click on OK or, to connect right now, click on Connect.

I recommend that you set the default directory on your PC to which FileZilla will point. In the site manager, click on the "Advanced" tab and then Browse to the directory of your choice -- C:\Users\Vati\Documents_XYZZY on my PC.

You will not have to go through this setup again, at least not until ECU changes things up again. After setup, all you will need do is boot up FileZilla, click on the drop down arrow in the upper left, and then select the server to which you wish to connect (MyWeb here).

You are then prompted for a password. Enter it and click OK.

On the left are the directories on your PC, on the right the directories on the server. To move from PC to server or vice versa, simply drag and drop as you would in Windows. You can right-click an item to get a drop-down menu of other options (such as delete)
